Forever-Five Queen

Happy birthday, my forever "five,"
That makes a lot thrive.
You joke you're five, I won't debate,
But your wisdom's worth the wait!

Down the aisle, I see us stroll,
You, in white, with a donut roll.
(Yes, I know, you'd rather eat
Than walk too far on those tiny feet!)

Your giggle, jokes are glittering gold,
All great few make's someone cold.
Shining-star-shooting, playful -> muse,
One everyone to gladly choose
Over Wi-Fi or my last fry—
(Okay, maybe not, but I'd try!)

Ooh rain rain rain,
IKY wanna dance in rain, forgetting the pain.
Ice cream lover, got a competition, so true,
Chocolate bouquet—deserved all by you.

To success, to dreams that take flight,
To love that grows, day and night.
Amanda, all time joy-giver,
Happy birthday, Queen 'five' this year!
